

Sergio Aguilar

Sergio Aguilar Roig is the Vice President of Subsidiaries for EMEA in Stoller Group, an American multinational company dedicated to plant physiology. Agronomist Engineer, Master in Agri-Food Industries at the Polytechnic University of Valencia, and Executive MBA at FUNDESEM.

Sergio has dedicated his more than 20 years of professional career to team management and business strategy development in very interesting and emerging agricultural markets in Europe, North Africa, Russia, and United States. Always with the simple purpose of offering unique solutions to his customers, to solve the numerous challenges that the modern agricultural sector presents every day.