

Clark Bell

The name Clark T. Bell has become synonymous with sustainability technology in agriculture. With more than 20 years in agribusiness, Clark was raised farming Turfgrass sod crops in Utah at BioGrass Sod Farms, Inc. In 2014, Clark co-founded Aqua-Yield®-a nanoliquid technology company using patented delivery systems.

As Aqua-Yield's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Bell oversees the day-to-day management, sales, distribution and product development. The company has won numerous awards for its growth, research and positive impact on the environment. Mr. Bell has appeared in Forbes, Entrepreneur Magazine, The Huffington Post, CROPLIFE, Agribusiness Global, AgPro, Ag 4.0, SeedWorld Today and Vegetable Grower News.

As the General Manager of BioGrass, Mr. Bell oversees the sales, marketing, and business development. BioGrass is a five time Utah Best of State award recipient and has been blanketing the Salt Lake valley with Turfgrass sod since 1979.

Mr. Bell is the Past-President of the Utah Nursery and Landscape Association. He studied business administration at Westminster College and is a former Adjunct Professor at the University of Utah.