Agricultural Technical Engineer since 2012, having completed my studies at the Polytechnic University of Valencia.

After various work experiences in the nursery and citrus sector, I am hired in 2016 by Bollo International Fruits as Technical Manager in the southern area of Valencia.

In 2019 my position evolves to Technical Director of the Levante area.

In 2022 I am promoted to Director of Production of the firm, controlling our two production areas, East (Levante Español) and South of Spain.

At this time, I manage 1,200 Ha, located in the South and Levante of Spain, and based on the production of Citrus and Avocados.
